

Westchester Photographic Society

www.wpsphoto.org

Presents Chris Nicholson

<https://www.nationalparksatnight.com>

March 12, 2021 7:30 PM

Night Photography in National Parks

National Parks at Night A ZOOM Webinar

From sea to shining sea, the national parks offer nature photographers some of the best places in the U.S. to practice their craft. Many of those parks are also in the darkest pockets of the country, affording stellar opportunities for night photography. In this talk, learn what the parks offer to the photographer for shooting under pristine night skies. Topics covered will include tips on gear, techniques and scouting, as well as info on night photography destinations in the park system such as Acadia, Big Bend, Death Valley, Everglades, Grand Canyon, Olympic, Redwood, Rocky Mountain and more.

Check out Chris' NIGHT PHOTO SUMMIT, Feb 12-14, www.nightphotosummit.com, 30 speakers, 40 programs, plus some really good giveaways.

Biography

Chris Nicholson is the author of "Photographing National Parks," and is a partner and instructor with National Parks at Night. A former magazine editor for 10 years, Chris has worked Independently since 2004, with his cameras focused primarily on nature and sports. His work has appeared in several books and over 30 magazines. He has worked as a book editor for National Parks Traveler, a content consultant for Chimani national-park travel guide apps, and a writer for various photography websites. Chris has taught for CreativeLive, is a regular presenter at the B&H Event Space in New York City, and speaks at photography conferences and events around the U.S.

Westchester Photographic Society is proud to invite the public to see Chris Nicholson, March 12, 2021 7:30 pm. To register email Deborah@wpsphoto.org. Use "Chris Nicholson March 12, 2021" as subject